crushed Under New York Street Car in Eager Effort to Spend Penny.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 .- Running stores Amsterdam avenue to a candy store with a penny his father had given him for his Sunday treat tightly clutched in his hand, Alexander Mc-Grath, 4 years old, of No. 200 West Ninety-eighth street, was struck by a couthbound Amsterdam avenue car, which hurled his body under its wheels and ismmed and mangled it among the rucks while the car ran a block before the motorman would stop it.

When fireman of Truck company No. 22 jacked up the car they found the boy's legs and arms half torn from the sockets, but the eager smile that the little chap's face had worn in anis little chap's face had worn in anstill upon his face and the almost severed hand still clutched the penny.

Lieut. Edward Fagan of the fire comnotorman, James Boyle, had ample rossing the street ahead of him, but instead the car was running full speed when it struck the child. There is a city ordinance formidding cars to run past a fire house without stopping, but Tagan says none of the Amsterdam venue cars even slacken speed. Within he last three months three persons-man, a woman and another little boy -have been killed by trolley cars at he same spot.

Boyle was arrested charged with omicide and the police were so indigmal bail that the company offers, but esisted upon real estate security be-
